Claim 9: A control method for controlling an image input apparatus, the method comprising:

a request generation step of generating a request in a predetermined format on the basis of user input by an operation unit; and a route determination step of sending the request generated in said request generation step to one of a sending unit and a processing unit with reference to the data stored in a memory, wherein the image input apparatus has which, has a camera unit for sensing images, the operation unit for controlling the image sensing, the sending unit for sending a request to an external control apparatus, the processing unit for executing the request, and the memory for storing correspondence data of a request type for controlling the image sensing and destination.

Art Unit: 2182

and Claim 17 is now amended to read as follows:

Claim 17: A computer program product comprising a computer storage medium having computer readable program code embodied in said medium for controlling an image input apparatus, said product including:

first computer readable program code for generating a request in a predetermined format on the basis of user input by an operation unit; and wherein, the image input apparatus has a camera unit for sensing images, the operation unit for controlling the image sensing, the sending unit for sending a request to an external control apparatus, the processing unit for executing the request, and the memory for storing correspondence data of a request type for controlling the image sensing and destination.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: for sending the request generated in said request generation step to one of a sending unit and a processing unit with reference to the data stored in a memory, the data being for the correspondence between an image sensing request type for controlling the image sensing and the destination corresponding to the image sensing request type.

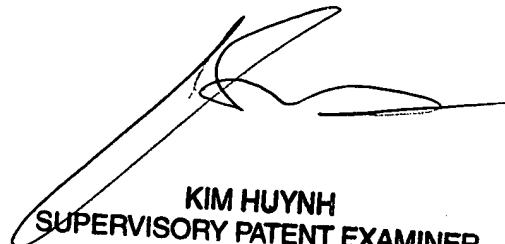

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
